

CCE March Report – Aaron Gabriel

- Once fields start to grow, I will check my plots of inter-seeded alfalfa and clover (seeded last spring) to see if year 2 looks any better than year one.
- Lots of projects in the planning, but nothing to report
- Meeting season is winding down.
- As this long down-turn in milk prices continues, some farmers have expressed interest in diversification.

Submitted by

Aaron Gabriel, Sr. Extension Resource Educator, Agronomy
Cornell Cooperative Extension